Demandware UK Ltd

 eCommerce Freedom™

Background

Demandware is a US based Corporation that provides enterprise-class e-commerce solutions that remove the technical costs, risks and complexities of running an e-commerce operation by provision of an on-demand enterprise e-commerce platform.

The company has been established for six years and in that time has grown substantially, with expansion in to the UK and Europe three years after the initial conception of the Demandware vision.

Our Role

Having had previous relationships with the CFO, Clark Howes were in the ideal position to offer a financial reporting package catered to suit the company's needs.

Clark Howes took the UK entities fragmented accounting processes and consolidated them in to one outsourced financial function. The result of this procedure is that Demandware now receive on demand, efficient and accurate financial reporting from the UK, saving time, costs and ensuring compliance with UK law.

“Effectively our financial controller in the UK. I don't get the same quality of service from any other supplier. They handle everything.”

Scott Dussault CFO
